Covid updates

We would like to thank the parents for their co-operation and support during this time. We know that face masks are no longer mandatory, and we thank you for wearing them when we have asked. From Monday it will no longer be necessary for parents to wear face masks to pick up the children. However this will continually be under review, and could change if the infection rate rises. All of our staff are asked to test twice a week and we have been fortunate to have very limited cases across school, which means limited impact to the children's learning.

Again we thank you all for your co-operation.

Number
Day 2022

To celebrate number day 2022 we are going to have a TT Rockstars day. The children can come to school dressed as a rock star and we will have a day of times table and number fun activities. We would like all the children to take part in any way that they can. If you are unsure of what to wear there are lots of ideas on the internet if you look at 'TT Rockstars day'.

We do ask that the children who have PE on that day wear their trainers so they are still able to participate in their PE Lesson.

Phonics and Reading

Please remember our great focus on Phonics and Reading. We need our children to practise this skill as much as possible and the more you can help by reading at home with your child, the greater progress they will make. We are investing in high quality books for the children across the school and we need the help and support of our parents to make sure these are returned to school on a daily basis. Reading is the key to learning. Let us all do all we can to support our children to be the best that they can be.

Reminder!

Our school attendance figures continue to be a huge issue for the school. Please speak to a member of the office if your child is going to be off school. Our attendance officer will continue to contact families we are concerned about.
